Re: Hewitt Allocation in Tittle Matter

Dear Mr. Ross:

I have received a copy of your letter of February 28, 2007. I understand Hewitt Associates, LLC ("Hewitt") has refused to accept as notice Mr. Neslage's letter of February 21, 2007 notwithstanding Hewitt's written response thereto. This letter adopts the statements and positions set forth in the February 21 letter of Mr. Neslage, including the demand that Hewitt honor Section 2.5 of the Administrative Services Agreement in full and at once. Please indicate whether Hewitt continues to maintain that there is something lacking in the notice from Enron Corp. ("Enron").

Enron appreciates the urgency of this situation as noted in your February 28 letter. The "situation" is a miscalculation of benefits by Hewitt when it used a fictitious share price, a grossly negligent miscalculation that has directly caused a substantial shortfall in the Enron Corp. Savings Plan ("Plan") balance. Such a shortfall is the expected and natural consequence of Hewitt's miscalculation. As to your February 28th request that action be taken "to correct the present situation," and to Hewitt's readiness "to assist the Plan in mitigating this situation," Enron hereby requests that Hewitt fund to the Plan immediately the shortfall that resulted directly from Hewitt's miscalculation. We understand that Hewitt currently estimates that deficiency at $17,328,000, but that with future allocation offsets the shortfall will be reduced to $10,973,113.00. Interest to date on this shortfall is $477,205, bringing the total funding amount to $11,450,318 ("Funding Amount").¹ Enron agrees that in paying the Plan the Funding Amount, Hewitt will do so without prejudice to its rights to determine "Hewitt's relative legal exposure in this matter" at a later date. The immediate funding by Hewitt of the Funding Amount ensures that Hewitt's legal position does not in any way delay the mitigation of the damages resulting directly from Hewitt's miscalculation. To avoid further damage, Enron must insist that Hewitt complete such funding by no later than 4:00 P.M. Central Time on Friday, March 9, 2007. In the event Hewitt fails to so mitigate by such time, Enron will pursue other funding for the Plan shortfall and hold Hewitt legally responsible for all costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith, including the funding itself.

Your letter offers to assist "in seeking reimbursement from participants who received payments they should not have." Please provide electronically before the close of business Friday a definitive list of all participants who received such payments, including the date and the amount of such payment. Please also provide by the close of business Friday the definitive list of all participants who have received an incorrect payment as a consequence of Hewitt's use of a fictitious share price, including the name of each participant, the amount of the incorrect payment, and the date of the mispayment. Please also assure Enron in writing by the close of business this week that any flaws in the Hewitt allocations in connection with the Tittle settlement have been rectified going forward. Additionally, Enron has engaged FTI Consulting to assist Enron in its review of Hewitt's allocation model. In that regard, attached please find a Document Request List from Brad Ross, Sr., Managing Director with FTI Consulting. Please provide to Enron items 1 through 13 by the close of business Monday, March 12, 2007. Furthermore, Enron requests a meeting with Hewitt at the Woodlands office to introduce representatives from FTI and to start the audit process to be scheduled no later than Monday, March 12, 2007. Please let us know what date and time would work best. We request that Hewitt provide FTI with access to all data, databases, and workpapers, etc. pertaining to the plans and allocation services. Hewitt should also understand that FTI may have additional data requests as they work through the audit process. Your February 28 letter failed to provide a response to many of the issues raised in the February 21 letter. Please provide by the close of business Friday a written response to those issues including but not limited to the following:

- the steps Hewitt is taking, or intends to take, to mitigate the damages, including any structural changes at Hewitt;
- the evidence to support Hewitt's statements that it recommended to Enron an audit of Hewitt's services;
- confirmation that Hewitt's calculations and allocations are now reliable;
- assurance that Enron and its third party designees may have immediate access to all data, databases, work papers and programs pertaining to the plan; and
- agreement of Hewitt to proceed directly to mediation without enduring the delay of the "internal escalation steps."

We have retained Bell, Boyd & Lloyd, LLP to represent our interests in this matter. We understand that in connection therewith, Hewitt has executed a written conflict waiver with respect to Bell, Boyd. Pete Rush is heading up our representation effort at Bell, Boyd.

We look forward to working with you to resolve this matter quickly without any further damage. We share your sentiment that the time for positive, concrete action is now.
